STATE TROOPERS & CIVILIAN DPS EMPLOYEES DELIVER SUPPLIES FOR OUR MILITARY SERVING IN IRAQ

Today 05/28/2004 at 11:00 AM Mrs. Joanna Cabelus-Repaci a civilian employee of the Department of Public Safety & Connecticut State Troopers will make a delivery of supplies that will be forwarded to our military personnel serving over in Iraq. Mrs. Cabelus-Repaci recently learned that our military personnel were in need of some basic supplies such as toothpaste, mouthwash, lip balm and other daily necessities. Mrs. Cabelus-Repaci organized a collection at State Police Headquarters and at all of the State Police barracks across the state.

Mrs. Cabelus-Repaci and several State Troopers will make the first delivery of supplies that have been collected so far and will be sent to Iraq. These supplies will be delivered to the State Armory for immediate shipment to our fighting men and women.

Commissioner Arthur Spada stated "many employees of the Department of Public safety are presently serving in Iraq, and at home, DPS employees like Mrs. Cabelus-Repaci are spearheading efforts like this to support all of our military. I am so very proud of them all, and thank them all for all of their effort."
